AFRICA

Dear Colleague,

Where has 2017 gone? Seems like this year has flown by and we're looking forward to winding down for the upcoming holidays. Right now, James is in Florida attending USTA's annual conference and we are both preparing for our last trip of the year, Signature Travel Network in December (oh yes).

In this newsletter you'll find updates on Precision Air's new direct flights between Kilimanjaro (Tanzania) and Entebbe (Uganda), as well as a nice mention of EcoTraining in a Toronto newspaper. And don't forget to check out the newest EcoTraining video below.

As most of you know, "Saving Wildlife Through Travel" is our vision statement at Emerging Destinations. In one of the posts below, you can read about how The Land & Life Foundation embodies that same goal. Lastly, we present the third installment of Jesse's Adventure Concierge to report in Uganda and Rwanda. If you missed the first two, you can find them here.

Please don't hesitate to reach out with any questions — we're just a phone call away!

Best,

James Dehrend + Jessie Bligh

Precision Air resurrects Kilimanjaro-Entebbe flights

Destination accessibility and regional connectivity are two of the keys to a rewarding vacation experience. And now comes great news out of East Africa that following a three-year hiatus.

Read All About It!

The Star newspaper in Toronto recently ran an article on EcoTraining Guides & Consultants after guiding a course at Botswana's Moshuete Reserve.

Quotable quote: "Trollip and his fellow students, hailing from Africa, Europe and North America, have agreed to undergo a year of professional safari guide training conducted online."

Land & Life Foundation Wildlife Warriors

Given the fact that much of East Africa's wild animals actually live outside the protection of national parks on private or community lands, Land & Life shares the belief with other eco-experts that local residents must be able to see, understand and directly benefit from wildlife tourism in order to create a strong bond to it.

Trip Report: Ultimate Uganda & Rwanda \(Part 3\)

I (Jessie Bligh) recently joined Adventure Concierge for an "Ultimate Uganda & Rwanda" safari in East Africa. This is the third installment of my trip report — on the camps and lodges I encountered at Queen Elizabeth National Park (QENP) and Bwindi Impenetrable Forest. Read.
