Dear Colleague,

Is it just the air that this summer seem hotter than usual? The heat and humidity in much of North America make a vacation in Iceland sound pretty nice right about now!

We're halfway through the 2017 cruising season and the Ocean Diamond is currently sailing on the coast of Greenland on a cruise itinerary called "Island and Nature Wonders of Greenland." Speaking of Greenland, this month's newsletter includes a post on how Iceland ProCruises makes it easy to visit the big North Atlantic island.

We recently hosted journalist, Shea Gaspers, on one of our classic "Island Circumnavigation" cruises and she had nothing but rave reviews. See what all the hype is about here. Also included this month in our mention in The New York Times, the first of a series on walking tours around Reykjavik, and a reminder about our 20% off early bird special. Start booking for 2018 now!

As always, don't hesitate to reach out if you have any questions.

Best,

Jane + Jessie

Walking Reykjavik - The Viking Trail

With a small and compact city center, meandering coastline and lots of parks, the Icelandic capital is ready-made for walking. Here's the first of our favorite urban hikes, what we like to call the Viking Trail. 2016

We Make Greenland Easy

One of the biggest issues that travelers have with Greenland is the fact that the huge North Atlantic island is difficult to reach from just about anywhere but Copenhagen — capital of the country (Denmark) that has nominally ruled the territory for so long. 2016

Early Birds Get More Than Just a Worm

Iceland is selling out. No joke! The big North Atlantic island is more popular than ever this summer, as lovers of nature, history and outdoor adventure flock to the rock that Vikings settled more than a thousand years ago. 2016

New York Times Lauds Iceland ProCruises

Alongside the rock-hot Yankees and the best Broadway shows, Iceland ProCruises recently got ink in the travel pages of The New York Times, America's most prestigious daily newspaper. 2016
