Dear Colleague

Summer is flying by in North America and it's hard to believe that our clients in Patagonia are getting ready for the southern hemisphere spring and the first guests arrivals of the new season.

On the other hand, Fantastico Sur never stopped. They've been loading and supporting trees all through the cold and snow months at Torres del Paine — and getting rave reviews on the new Wilderness program for 2015.

A reminder that Hidalgo Las Torres has extended its season and is now open from September 15th until April 30th. We've also added an afternoon package from Calafate (Argentina), which you may need about below. In addition we've just got news about a new Las Torres all-inclusive program that features a free hotel night in Santiago or Calafate. And we are proud to announce that the newly Condor restaurant in new Tio Advisor's favorite restaurant in Torres del Paine. I get to sample their delicious food in early October when I visit them again. Yum, yum! At least I get to take it off.

Our big news this month is that after almost nine years, Emerging Destinations and Australia are parting ways. Our last day with the company is 20th September. They have reduced us with the full-time sales rep, so we feel good about that. We wish them the best of luck.

Best,
Jane + Jessie

What in the World is a Refugio?

For anyone who's hiked in the Spanish-speaking world, refugio is a familiar term, a place you come across on trails both short and long. There isn't an exact English equivalent. The literal translation is "refuge" — as in mountain refuge. More

Coliron Crowned King

With more than 200 user reviews, Coliron restaurant has been crowned the number one restaurant in Torres del Paine National Park on TripAdvisor. The gourmet eatery at Hotel Las Torres beats 16 other restaurants in the park. More

The Park at the End of the World

It's not the southernmost national park on our planet — that honor goes to nearby Cape Horn in Chile — but Torres del Paine National Park at the bottom end of Argentina comes in a close second. Located just 20 minutes west of downtown Ushuaia, the park is easy to explore. More

Leader of the Pack: Marcelo Gallo

During his recent visit to the US — and just before he headed back to Patagonia to prepare for his upcoming cruise season — we recorded a webinar with Marcelo Gallo, an expedition leader on the brand new Condor. Marcelo is top dog in the pack of walkers/poles who take passengers on excursions in our busy Zonas. More

Trekking the "W" in Winter? You Betcha!

If you thought the southern hemisphere summer was the only time to hike Patagonia, think again. Because Fantastico Sur has launched an incredible Winter Trekking Package at Torres del Paine. More

Talk About a Spring Break!

Hidalgo Las Torres is celebrating the arrival of the Chilean spring with a special promotion — anyone who books a four-night, all-inclusive stay that falls within the period September 15 to October 31, 2017 gets a fifth night at the Patagonian wilderness lodge absolutely free! More
