Dear Colleague,

Happy New Year! The Emerging Destinations Team wishes you happiness, health and success in 2019 and beyond.

My husband and I started December in the lovely Asia-Pacific region with SeaTrek Sailing Adventures aboard their "Jewels of Raja Ampat" cruise in Indonesia — which was absolutely marvelous.

We snorkeled 1-3 times daily and were stunned by the underwater biodiversity and beauty of the limestone islands. It was a very relaxed trip — no shoes allowed on board — and other than a bathing suit, a sarong and some long pants for hiking and good sunblock, nothing else was really needed.

Interestingly, one-third of the passengers were doing a return trip with SeaTrek and brought friends with them. Our group of 15 got along so well that we're talking about doing a "Spice Island" cruise together in a couple of years.

What's ahead for Emerging Destinations in 2019? We're bringing on a new employee starting in March. Jessie leaves in a week on "North Norway, Aurora Borealis & Whales" cruise with Oceanwide Expeditions. And I'll be visiting Antarctica for the first time. We'll also be scheduling cruises with Adventure Canada and Jungle Experiences for the team.

How lucky are we?

In our first newsletter of the year, please find information on the Iceland ProCruises extension of their Early Bird Special, Adventure Canada's guaranteed rates and other pertinent news.

If you're going to the Travel & Adventure Show in Chicago, please look for Jane at the Botswana Tourism Booth. And she will also be wandering the New York Times Ocean Show. Please contact us if you would like to schedule an appointment. Travel News Expeditions will also have a booth at both shows.

Best,

Jane + Jessie
